Dear Mr. Beaudoin,

Thank you for presenting an abbreviated version of your "Convictable Commitment" seminar to our management team and allowing us to print selected "Affirmations" and "Reflections" in our company newsletters.

The information you packed into one hour was both interesting and thought provoking. Pointing out the need to live a balanced life and establish complementary goals will certainly improve the work performance and personal lives of my staff. Your presentation was stimulating and the exercises were challenging.

I also appreciate your contributions to our company's newsletters. The excerpts from your "Monthly Affirmation Program" and short essays add value to our publication. Many of our employees comment on the rich lessons you deliver in a concise easy to read story.

I'm looking forward to your next presentation and contribution.

Sincerely,

Gary E. LaPlant
